Formerly known as the Hawaii Children's Museum, housed in the Dole Pineapple Cannery in Iwilei, the storefront facility quickly outgrew its audience of families with young children and throngs of school children who lined up at the door to visit the 5,000 square foot museum. The museum, started and staffed initially by volunteers, needed to find a permanent home. The state provided a site in the newly developing Kaka'ako Waterfront Park, and the transformation of the old city incinerator into a place of wonder, joy and discovery was completed when the new 45,000 sq. ft. Children's Discovery Center opened in 1998.

We're thrilled to be selected as the beneficiary of the KIA Golf Tournament this year! It is so heartwarming to be a part of the Kaka'ako community where businesses, large and small, are part of our Discovery Center family! We love the fact that so many KIA families come to the Center and are grateful that, through your support, we can continue to serve the children and families both here in Hawaii and from all over the world. The Golf Committee is already hard at work and is making plans for a great tournament this year. Come and join in on the fun!
